

2/26/13

2013 CUFFA Fee Update

Following three years in which Congress substantially suspended annual fee increases, it is anticipated that billing for 2013 user fees will reflect the full amount mandated by CUFFA. Hence, substantially higher fees than in previous years are likely for many cabin owners.

Bills for collection are being sent out to permit holders later than customary this year due to implementation of a new accounting system throughout the Department of Agriculture. At this time, bills for collection will likely be processed in June 2013, and payments will become due 30 days from the date identified on the bills for collection. Updates on the timing of 2013 user fee billings will be provided on the NFH website as they become known.

George Cardinet III